2019 December 15, Sunday: Mystery play reading

12:15 Croydon Meeting House As a Christmas celebration we will have an informal reading of some medieval mystery plays. We can all join in - no acting experience necessary!

Paper scripts will be provided but if you are really keen, the scripts can be read online or transferred to your Kindle or other hand-held device. See:

- Chester Shepherds or as PDF
- Chester Passion or as PDF - has 23 characters so everybody will get a part!

Requests made here for specific rôles will be considered.

Trowle Good lord, look on me
And my flock as they feed here.
On this wold walk we.
And my good dog Dottynowle
That is never slow to be chiding.

From The Paynters and the Glasiors Playe of the Chester Cycle.
